Hi,

Kara is due back in town on Thursday evening. I know Dianne was going to try and find her in Corner Brook, but I don't know if she was successful. I can text message her and see where that takes us, but I was also thinking that we are going to mail this information out to people, so if we get it on Friday, we can email it out to the regions then and mail it to anyone who has requested it.

Dianne, if you did locate Kara, let me know so I don't bother her again.

Thanks
 Sharon

Subject: Release of NLCHI database

We have been informed that the database will be released this Thursday. We are not yet prepared for the communication to the deceased without the Q&A. Sharon, is it possible to get this from Kara over before tomorrow morning. We have to get it out to the other regions, etc. I suppose, we will have to go with what we have if we cannot get a response from her...we really have no choice. Pat
