Hi Moira,

I understand you were speaking to Dr. Williams and required an update as to our communication efforts regarding the ER/PR situation. The following information represents 611 individuals. Some of these individuals have more than one sample sent.

I have broken down these 611 into the following groups:

Patients whose results have been reported but require review: Total 59 patients
These patients have been reviewed by a panel consisting of two medical oncologists, two pathologists, two surgeons, with support from Quality Enhancement. Notification is by letter to the most responsible physician.

- * Patient status has changed but there are no treatment recommendations: 35
- * Patient status has changed and there are treatment recommendations: 21
- * Patient sample requires further testing: 2
- * Patient sample has multiple results and will require follow-up: 1

Patients whose results have been reported and they have been confirmed negative:
Total 88 patients

- Contacted by QE staff: 40
- No answer (after many tries): 3
- Contacted by Physician: 44
- Other region: 1

Patients whose results have not been received: Total 285 patients

- Contacted: 171
- No answer: 22
- Unable to locate at this time: 6 (we are exploring ways to contact them)
- Other regions: 86

Both Western and Central will be contacting their own patients. The 10 patients from Labrador will be contacted through Eastern.

Overall these phone calls have gone quite well, w
